Headmaster's Welcome

Described by one of our parents as a happy school, I am delighted to be the Headmaster of a school that has a long history of academic brilliance with a close-knit tie to the Arusha community. As the head of this long-esteemed institution, the school endeavours to provide high quality teaching and learning experiences for all students.

For 50 years now, the Arusha Meru International School has offered a commitment to provide the highest expectations and standards for our students both academically and pastorally. We believe that learning should be individualised, enjoyable and structured and to achieve this, we have created a network of wide-ranging programmes inside and outside the classroom and school.

We are a vibrant school that offers a student-centred approach to education. We are academically inclusive and believe that every student should have an equal opportunity to acquire an international education, with international teaching staff, at a fraction of the price compared to other international schools in Arusha.

We expect our students to set themselves high standards in their academic work, extra-curricular activities and their relationship within the community. This is because we challenge and support them in order for them to achieve both socially and academically.

If you want to know more about our school, please keep in touch with us. We would love to have you as our guest so we can show you around and share our progress with you.

At your service,
